TO MAINTAIN FREE DELIVERY Washington, October 3-Congress

will appropriate $20,000,000 at the coming session for the maintenance and extension of rural free delivery. This, at least, is the expectation of the postal officials immediately in charge of the delivery service. Estimates now being prepared at the department indicate that it will take about $13,000,000 to maintain the rural routes that will be in operation July 1. About 3900 rural routes have been installed since July 1 last. With the funds now available 3000 additional routes can be established. This will make 21,000 routes in operation by the end of the fiscal year.

It is expected, however, that the number will be largely in excess of appropriated at the last session of congress will have been exhausted and department efficials anticipate that at least $500,000 will be made available for emergency purposes. Find Another Cock.

A brisk young Cock, scratching for something with which to entertain his favorite hens, happened to turn up a jewel. Feeling quite sure that it was something precious, but not knowing well what to do with it, he addressed it with an air of affected wisdom as follows: "You are a very fine thing, no doubt; but you are not at all to my taste. For my part, I would rather have one grain of dear, delicious barley than all the Jewels in the world."

MORAL.—There are several people in the world that pass, with some, for well complished gentlemen, and very pretty fellows, though they are as great strans to the true use of virtue and knowledge as the cock upon the dunghill is to real value of the jewel.

He said had week, to their home on North Ninth it not been for the fact that the claim against the federal govenment was paid in the nick of time, the treasury would have been hopelessly bankrupt. 'You will never know," said he, what became of all that money."

He compared every item of expense of Beckham's administration with those of Budleys, and scored the present administration on the Calhoun commissions. Especial stress was laid on the fact that Beckham has not attemped to refute the statement made Mrs. Richard Dunlap of Paris, Tenn. twelve days ago that he had sold a par don for $800.

"No More Aches and Pains." No. 826 Perdido Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA., March 27, 1903. For over nine years I had been troubled with leucorrhoea. The discharge was yellowish at times but after the menstrual period it would become reddish, acrid and excoriating. This exhausted my system. I was continually tired while my appetite was poor, my digestion very bad and my sleep fitful and feverish. Wine of Cardui was the one remedy which helped me in my distress. I soon found that it relieved the pain and imbued me with new strength and after the use of 22 bottles I was well. No more discharge. No more aches and pains and oh, what relief, only those who have had my experience can appreciate One Daughters' Industrial Clus.

Does not this letter convince the most skeptical sufferer that Wine of Cardui will bring her health? It is difficult to imagine a case where there are more discouraging features than this before Mrs. Moore began taking Wine of Cardui. Leucorrhæa is an inflammation of the vagina. It is really decay in the vital organs of womanhood. This inflammation often drives women into the direst stages of nervous excitement. At the menstrual period the continual itching is accompanied by the utmost agony. The life of the woman who lets this trouble run on as Mrs. Moore did is one of misery. But Mrs. Moore did not know what medicine to take to cure it. When she had Wine of Cardui brought to her attention she took it and continued the treatment until she was cured. The case was a chronic one and it took presistent effort to bring a permanent cure. This cure can be secured by any woman who takes Wine of Cardui. Mrs. Moore tried everything else and continued to suffer. She tried Wine of Cardui and was cured. You can treat your case successfully in your own home and nobody need know anything about it. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today and begin the treatment.

Of free trade and protection Mr. Balfour said:

"I bear criticisms on American and German policy which caused those great industrial nations to accompany their marvelous commercial expansion with protective duties, which must have thrown a heavy burden on the consumer. I feel that they have a retort to which I at least have no reply. They may well say that, although pro The Sun, who affirms that the above rectionists, they have established permanent free trade within the limits of their own country, where everything which can hamper production or limit the increase of wealth, has been abolished by their patriotism and foresight, and they may well ask us whether we in the British empire can point to a similar picture, and whether our vaunted free trade includes those great self-governing colonies which we proudly boast are to be the great handicapped, and if compelled to send buttresses of our empire in the future"

Secretary Peyton N. Clarke Gives an Interesting Interview on the Benefits That Will Come From the Adoption of the Constitutional Amendment In November.

Himself always in the front rank when contests are waged for state development, Mr. Peyton N. Clarke of Louisville was naturally turned to by the Constitutional Amendment Committee for its Secretary. He has unselfishly devoted much of his time to all propositions of this kind and is easily one of the best posted citizens of the State on the Constitutional Amendment. The following review of the benefits to accrue was furnished by him for our readers:

"You will understand, of course, that the proposed Amendment will not interfere in any manner with the present method of assessing real estate and personal property for State and county purposes. All towns and cities will continue as heretofore to pay taxes for State and county purposes under the present law, and the proposed Amendment, ff adopted, will make it possible for any town or city in the State to secure an act of the Legislature, providing that in raising revenues for strictly local purposes, towns and cities of any class may substitute for the present ad valorem system, such licenses, franchises, and excise laws, in subjecting personal property to its fair share of the expenses of such towns and cities as may take advantage of the Amendment when adopted.

"It would seem to be a perfectly fair proposition to allow the towns and cities in the State to raise their revenue for strictly local purposes in any manner they see fit, and no fairminded person could reasonably object to allowing them this privilege, but the main object and purpose of the Amendment is of far greater moment and interest to every citizen in the State, whether he is a resident of a town or city or resides in the country districts.

"The products of a State are its foundation of wealth, but its industries are the sinews of its financial strength. Without industries, which afford markets, in proximity to the products, the producers are badly their products to distant markets. where there is greater competition and increased expenses, as well as Those Democrats who are trying to numerous losses, it is perfectly plain that the producer must suffer.

> "Now, in order to secure more industries, which means more employes creasing the capacity of those already established, secure an ample home

"Other States have seen the wisdom of this policy and Kentuckians should not be allowed to lag behind them. Our geographical position and enormous undeveloped wealth should enable us to occupy a place in the front ranks ture welfare and prosperity of the State can be settled in a great measure by the adoption of the Constitutional amendment. Manufacturers and locate in Kentucky while our taxes on such industries are greater than in other States with which we have to compete. Therefore, in order to secure the benefits, our position and advantages entitle us to, we must be able to offer the same inducements as are offered by our neighbors.

"While the proposed Amendment" will not change in any manner the present method of assessing real estate for State and county taxes, it must not be concluded that it will not greatly benefit the entire State.

"It is confidently believed that the new law will enable the assessors to disclose a vast amount of property not at present in reach of the assessors. and if this result should follow, there would be an opportunity for an immediate and radical reduction in the tax rate for State and county purposes by which every taxpayer in the The main advantage would be in the inducement to new industries to locate in our midst, new capital to seek investment in our farms, mines and rich timber lands, and by thus increasing our wealth and importance the result would invariably follow of a reduction in the tax rate. It is a very simple proposition that the more property to be taxed, the lower the rate necessary to secure the same revenue

"A recent change in the Kentucky incorporation law has kept vast sums of money in our State which before the change referred to, went to other States, and the numerous enterprises now being incorporated in Kentucky will continue to add to its revenues for all time to come, and if anyone has been damaged in any way by the change there has been no discovery of

"If Kentucky could gain so much by a simple change in the statutes, why should she not gain a great deal more by a change in the revenue law as proposed in the Amendment to be voted on in November? "This is a grave proposition and de-

Is Liable to Break Down—Pe-ru-nalis Sure to Restore.

Hon. Frank Dunn, Alderman Twenty-Fourth District, writes from 232 East Fifty-Eighth Street, New York City: The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen: "There is no remedy for a broken-down system that I know of which will so effectually restore health as Peruna.

"Whenever I am overworked or suffer from the consequences of a cold a few doses of Peruna builds me up again more quickly than anything I ever tried. I find it especially valuable for catarrh. Three bottles cured me three years ago of catarrh of the stomach and be pleased to give you his valuable ad-I have never had the least symptoms of it since."

Very traly, FRANK DUNN, Alderman 24th Sta., N. Y. City.

TONIC is a medicine that gives tone to some part of the system. There are different kinds of tonics, but the tonic most needed in this country, where catarrh is so prevalent, is a tonic that operates on the mucous mem-

Peruns is a tonic to the mucous membranes of the whole body. It gives tone to the capillary circulation which constitutes these delicate membranes.

Peruna is a specific in its operation upon the mucous membrane. It is a tonic that strikes at the root of all catarrhal affections. It gives tone to the minute blood vessels and the terminal nerve fibres. Catarrh cannot exist long where Peruna is used intelligently. Peruna seeks out catarrh in all the hidden parts of the body.

Paul Landrum writing from Atlanta, Ga., savs:

"In January last I began the use of your Peruna and Manalin for what was termed organic heart trouble. At that time I could scarcely walk to my place of business without stopping to rest and on arrival felt completely exhausted. Had severe pains in my heart and general dizziness. After using the first bottle of Peruna I began to improve and today I feel that I am a sound man and I work fourteen hours a day without any bad feeling."-Paul Landrum.

A. M. Ikerd, an employee of the C. B. & O. R. R., West Burlington, Ia., writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief. Finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me, that I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was something awful. I could hardly stand it, it was so offensive. I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually

"Finally I got one of your books, and concluded I would try Peruna, and thank God, I found a relief and a cure for that dreadful disease. I took five bottles of Peruna and two of Manalin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle in my house all the time."-A. M. Ikerd.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving o full statement of your case and he will vice gratis.

WEAK MEN CURED WITHOUT STOMACH DRUGGING: FREE

Simple Home-Method in Possessien of Detroit Specialist Does Wonders For Mon-Something Entirely New.

SENT FREE TO ALL

There has been discovered by a well-known Detroit specialist a simple, direct and quick home method for the cure of such conditions as sexual weakness or lost manhood, night losses varicocele, shrunken organs, bladder trouble diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs, pre maturity, etc., and so effective is it in results on men, even as old as 85, that it should at once recommend itself to every thinking man who suffers in this way. The cure, strange to say, is accomplished without the use of drugs, salves ointments or anything of that kind. And yet it is no mechanical device, but one of the truly great discoveries in materia medica that cures without taking anything into the stomach and aroases a glow of warmth, energy and good feeling almost instantly in the oldest person.

The discovery can be relied upon to cure the worst and most long standing cases, and it is especially urged that men who have been unable to find a certe before, as well as those who have not known a happy moment in years, write at once to Doctor H. C. Raymor, 775 Smith Building, Detreit, Michigan. and you will immediately receive a package of the discovery entire y FREE, as well as a scholarly essay on the subject describing all the symptoms in detail, sent plais and securely scaled. Consider that nothing is impossible in this century of marvesous achievements, the century that gave us arti-tox's and X-rays, and that however doubtful you may be because of past failures to find a permanent cure, yet this may prove the very thing you have so long sought. Let your response be prompt. DR H. C. RAYNOR, 775 Smath Building Detroit, Flich, able to find a cere before, as well as those who

IMMENSE MAIL

SPECIAL CLERK DETAILED FOR WEST POINT, KY.

Foreseeing that the regular employees in the post office at West Point would be unable to handle the immense amount of mail which will pass through that office during the encampment, Capt. Harry B. Jenks, of Louisville, chief of the railway mail servce, has detailed G. A. Hendry, an expert mail clerk, to be stationed at West Point and aid in the handling of outgoing mail.

Already the mail has accumulated in the office until it has got past the ability of the regular postmaster to handle. With the arrival of the State troops at the camp the mail will be increased greatly, so that the service of the expert will be needed immediately. He took charge yesterday and will remain during the encampment.

He met Father Beret near Roussillon place, and, feeling his ribs squirm at sight of the priest, he accosted him insolently, demanding information as to the whereabouts of the missing flag.

A priest may be good and true-Father Beret certainly was and yet have the strongest characteristics of a worldly man. This thing of being bullied day after day, as had recently been the rule, generated nothing to aid in removing a refractory desire from the priest's heart-the worldly desire to repeat with great increment of force the punch against Farnsworth's lower ribs.

"I order you, sir, to produce that rebel flag," said Farnsworth. "You will obey forthwith or take the consequences. I am no longer in the humor to be trifled with. Do you understand?

"I might be forced to obey you if I robe about him; "but, as I have often at the present stage of the game." told you, my son, I do not know where the flag is or who took it. I do not had happened to Farnsworth, but they even suspect any person of taking it. | had been discussing the strained rela All that I know about it is the simple fact that it is gone."

"You canting old fool!" cried Farnsworth. "Don't lie to me any longer! I won't have it. Don't stand there grinning at me. Get that flag or I'll make

"What is impossible, my son, is possible to God alone. Apud homines hoc impossibile est, apud Deum autem omnia possibilia sunt." "None of your Jesuit Latin or logic to me. I am not here to argue, but to command. Get that flag. Be in a burry about it, sir." He whipped out his sword, and in his half drunken eyes there gathered the dull film of murderous passion.

"Put up your weapon, captain. You will not attack an unarmed priest. You are a soldier and will not dare strike an old, defenseless man."

"But I will strike a black robed and black hearted French rebel. Get that flag, you grinning fool!" "Strike if you must," he said very gently, very firmly. "I never yet have seen the man that could make me afraid." His speech was slightly singsong in tone, as it would have been during a prayer or a blessing. "Get the flag, then!" raged Farnsworth, in whose veins the heat of liquor was aided by an unreasoning choler. "I cannot," said Father Beret.

"Then take the consequences!" Farnsworth lifted his sword, not to thrust, but to strike with its flat side. and down it flashed with a noisy whack. Father Beret flung out an arm and deftly turned the blow aside. It sprang back glaring and surprised.

was done so easily that Farnsworth "You old fool!" he cried, leveling his weapon for a direct lunge. "You devilish hypocrite!"

It was then that Father Beret turned deadly pale and swiftly crossed himself. His face looked as if he saw something just beyond his adversary. Possibly this sudden change of expression caused Farnsworth to hesitate for a mere point of time. Then there was the swish of a woman's skirts; a light step pattered on the frezen ground, and Alice sprang between the men, facing Farnsworth. As she did this something small and yellow-the locket at her throat-fell and rolled under her feet. Nebody saw it.

In her hand she held an immense horse pistol, which she leveled in the captain's face, its flaring, bugle shaped muzzle gaping not a yard from his nose. The heavy tube was as steady as if in a vise.

"Drop that sword!" was pressing the trigger, and the flint in the backward slanting hammer was ready to click against the steel. The leaden slugs were on the point of leaping forth.

"Drop that sword!" The repetition seemed to close the opportunity for delay.

Farnsworth was on his guard in a his blade. It was a move which might sword play was ready in her wrist and gest itself. hand. An involuntary turn, the slighther weapon strongly against the blow. partly stopping it, and then the gaping muzzle spat its load of balls and slugs with a bellow that awoke the drowsy | Farnsworth?" old village.

Farnsworth staggered backward, letting fall his sword. There was a rent in the clothing of his left shoulder. He reeled, the blood spun out, but he did not fall, although he grew white.

Father Beret sprang nimbly to sustain Farnsworth, snatching up the pistol as he passed around Alice.

"You are hurt, my son," he gently said. "Let me help you." He passed his arm firmly under that of Farnsworth, seeing that the captain was unsteady on his feet.

"Lean upon me. Come with me, Alice, my child, and I will take him into the house.

Alice picked up the captain's sword and led the way. It was all done so quickly that Farnsworth, in his half dazed condition, scarcely realized what was going on until he found himself on a couch in the Roussillon home, his wound (a jagged furrow plowed out by slugs that the sword's blade had first intercepted) neatly dressed and bandaged, while Alice and the priest hovered over him, busy with their careful ministrations

Hamilton and Helm were, as usual, playing cards at the former's quarters when a guard announced that Mile. Roussillon wished an audience with the governor.

"Bring the girl in," said Hamilton, throwing down his cards and scowling darkly.

"Now you'd better be wise as a serpent and gentle as a dove," remarked Helm. "There is something up, and that gunshot we heard awhile ago may have a good deal to do with it. At any rate, you'll find kindness your best could," said the priest, drawing his card to play with Alice Roussillon just tions between the garrison and the French inhabitants when the roar of Alice's big mouthed pistol startled them. Helm was slyly beating about to make Hamilton lose sight of the danger from Clark's direction. To do this he artfully magnified the insidious work that might be done by the French and their Indian friends should they be driven to desperation by oppressive or exasperating action on the part of the English.

Hamilton felt the dangerous uncertainty upon which the situation rested, but, like many another vigorously self reliant man, he could not subordinate his passions to the dictates of policy. When Alice was conducted into his presence he instantly swelled with anger. It was her father, who had struck him and escaped; it was she who had carried off the rebel flag at the moment of victory.

"Well, miss, to what do I owe the honor of this visit?" he demanded. with a supercilious air, bending a card between his thumb and finger on the

"I have come, monsieur, to tell you that I have hurt Captain Farnsworth. He was about to kill Father Beret, and I shot him. He is in our house and well cared for. I don't think his wound is bad. And"-here she hesitated at last and let her gaze fall-"so here I am." Then she lifted her eyes again and made an inimitable French gesture with her shoulders and arms. "You That was all she said, but her finger will do as you please, monsieur. I am at your mercy."

Hamilton was astounded. Helm sat staring phlegmatically. Meantime Beverley entered the room and stopped, hat in hand, behind Alice. He was flushed and evidently excited. In fact, he had heard of the trouble with Farnsworth, and, seeing Alice enter the door of Hamilton's quarters, he followed her twinkling. He set his jaw and uttered in, his heart stirred by no slight emoan ugly oath; then quick as lightning tion. He met the governor's glare and he struck sidewise at the pistol with parried it with one of equal haughtiness. The veins on his forehead swelled have taken a less alert person than and turned dark. "And I'll have you shot for it, miss as sure as you stand there in your silly impudence ogling me so brazenly!"

He leaned toward her as he spoke and sent with the words a shock of coarse, passionate energy from which she recoiled as if expecting a blow to follow it.

An irresistible impulse swept Beverley to Alice's side, and his attitude was that of a protector. Helm sprang
